¹ ErgoSoft RIP JobComposer licenses do not include drivers. In order to print with these products at least one driver must be purchased.

² Each purchased driver includes one PrintClient to send data to one specific printer type. To drive e.g. two (2) printers of the same type at the same time, an additional PrintClient for the specific driver has to be purchased.

Go to www.ergosoft.net/supported-devices to find the corresponding level for the required drivers.

³ "Additional PrintClient" means one more output station for an identical driver which has already been purchased.
